

6. Conclusions

- Was your hypothesis and reasoning correct? Explain why.
- What type of elements do the solutions that illuminated the light bulb have in common?
- If water illuminated the light bulb after all the liquids, even though it hadn't lit up before, what could be a reason why that happened?
- If you did this experiment again, what new solutions would you use? What would your new hypothesis be?